THE SUNDAY AMERICAN'S MARVELOUS GROWTH OF 100,000 PAID CIRCULATION SURPRISES MEN OF SOUTH

Following are expressions of opinion of some well-known men of the marvelous growth of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN—over 100,000 net paid circulation in six months. The first issue of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN appeared on April 6, 1913. To establish a Sunday newspaper with this circulation in six months is a remarkable journalistic triumph.

THE SUNDAY AMERICAN HAS MORE NET PAID CIRCULATION EVERY SUNDAY THAN THE ATLANTA SUNDAY CONSTITUTION AND ATLANTA SUNDAY JOURNAL COMBINED.

Here are the comments of leading men:

W. S. Candler, Capitalist, Banker, Manufacturer, Real Estate
Owner:

I am glad that THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN are here to have a part in the glorious future of Atlanta and the South and to assist in the building of this section of the country. It is indisputable that they are in a peculiarly favorable position to make known to the world the advantages and the resources of Atlanta and the South.

THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN, together with the other newspapers owned by Mr. Hearst, have done much to bring Atlanta to the attention of the rest of the country to an extent that would not have been possible before this time. I am confident they will continue their commendable work.

The wonderful progress and growth of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN are a surprise to me to learn that they had attained a circulation of 100,000 copies. I hope the property may continue.

JOEL HURT, Capitalist, Real Estate
Owner:

I am personally gratified by the fact that HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN published in Atlanta has passed the 100,000 net paid mark. This growth has been nothing short of marvelous. That a newspaper six months old should attain a circulation of that magnitude surely is an eloquent tribute to the enterprise and ability of its founder.

The Hearst newspapers in Atlanta have been active and pushing. They have a great field in Atlanta and the South. I believe that they are here with the determined purpose of doing good for this section of the country.

The South is moving forward at all times more rapidly and more vigorously than ever before. Atlanta is in the center of this movement. It lies in the power of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN to assist materially in this development. I am sure from the attitude adopted by these two great papers that their wishes are with them.

A. K. Orr, Manufacturer:

It is unnecessary for me to say that THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN have found a home in the South. The phenomenal increase in their circulation is sufficient proof of this.

I have been greatly impressed by the editorial policy of the two papers. I have no doubt that they are doing much to help the South and to bring it up to the level of the North.

Through the tireless efforts of these two newspapers, the South is being brought into the world's attention. I am sure that they will continue to do so.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Wednesday and Thursday.

Crime to Read Bryan Book, Says Hindu

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—To read the works of William J. Bryan, now Secretary of State, is a penal offense in India, if it happens to be a pamphlet called "British Rule in India," according to Basanta Kumar Roy, a Hindu, who says he was exiled from India for working for the freedom of his country.

According to Roy, Mr. Bryan, in the pamphlet, says: "The more I see and read of British rule in India, the more unjust it seems. Roy says that to have the pamphlet in one's possession in India is sufficient warrant for arrest and serving time.

'Pulaski Heir' Wants $35,000,000 from U.S.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—A claim of 70,000,000 rubles will soon be instituted against the United States Government by Lesko Burdinsky, of Petrokov, Russian Poland. Burdinsky claims to be a direct descendant of Pulaski, the Polish soldier, who so materially assisted General Washington in freeing the American colonies from British rule.

He bases his claims on the accumulated receipts accruing from the sale of real estate in Chicago, which land was granted to General Pulaski for his services.

Horned Owl Caught In White House Basin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A big horned owl swooping down for goldfish in the fountain at the east entrance to the White House became entangled in the water lilies in its basin and was drowned. It was found floating on the water supported by its outstretched wings, which measured four feet.

Owls have been heard frequently in the trees on the White House grounds, but attendants said they never had seen one before.

Roosevelt's G.O.P.'s Only Hope, Says Riis

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., Oct. 8.—Jacob Riis, who has been in a sanatorium here for several weeks, said today that if the Republican party will swallow the Progressive principles, crack, and all, there is a possibility of the two parties merging.

He also said that the people would insist on Roosevelt running for President again in 1916 and asserted that the only hope for the Republicans was to join with the Progressives.

Hardened Arteries Cured by Radium

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Hardening of arteries—one of the deadly maladies prevalent among the work-worn and pleasure-driven—has been conquered by radium.

Water Brady, 70 years old, clerk in the Supreme Court, is not only healthy but subject of the cure. His physician will bring the wonderful case before the next meeting of the Academy of Medicine.

Mrs. Bryan Acts as Her Own Chauffeur

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Mrs. William Jennings Bryan is setting an example in economy to other women of Washington's official world.

Mrs. Bryan dispenses with the services of a chauffeur. Her skill in driving her car has attracted much attention.

Mrs. Rockefeller's Health Is Failing

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—John D. Rockefeller has postponed his return to his New York home, owing to the serious condition of his wife's health, he told fellow members at the Euclid Baptist Church.

DOES SIDES CONFIDENT IN FRANK CASE

Men Who Accuse Henslee of Prejudice of Highest Type, Says Stiles Hopkins.

Attorneys for Leo M. Frank announced Wednesday that they invited an attack upon the truth and veracity of the men who made denunciations against Juror A. H. Henslee, charging bias and prejudice, just for the purpose of demonstrating character and honesty.

They have filed denunciations charging that they overheard Henslee, before the trial of Frank, uttering violently denunciatory remarks in regard to the defendant and declare his belief in Frank's guilt.

Henslee's reply was that he made some of the statements credited to him, but that he made them after the trial and not before.

"That sort of a defense by Henslee is most absurd," is the only comment that Mr. Hopkins would make on this statement of the juror. "Depositions which are on the show that one of the remarks of Henslee was that 'If the jury ever turns Frank loose he never will get out of Atlanta alive.' This could not have been made after the trial. He also is alleged to have said that he had been summoned as a witness and might be a juror in the case, in which event he would like to have a part in 'breaking Frank's neck.' He could not have said this after the trial."

Prominent Men.

Mr. Hopkins said that J. J. Nunnally, one of those who had made denunciations, is vice president of the W. H. Nunnally Company of Monroe, and is identified with the Nunnally & Harris Supply Company, in which capacity he met Henslee, who is an agent for buggies, whips and supplies.

None of the affidavits, said the lawyer, would have any occasion to make a deposition against Henslee unless it was the truth. All, in fact, he declared, had been most reluctant to have anything to say about the matter until they were forced to make their statements by being summoned into court.

John M. Holmes, another who swears he overheard Henslee's violent remarks against Frank, is the partner of John D. Walker, a prominent banker. The others occupy similar positions of prominence.

Bryan Speaks at Wofford College

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Oct. 8.—Secretary of State William J. Bryan arrived in Spartanburg yesterday afternoon and spoke from the steps of Wofford College.

Mr. Bryan is on his way from Kings Mountain, N. C., where he addressed several times the students of the University of the Presbyterian battle on that historic ground.

STAR LEFT-HANDER TO PITCH FOR ATHLETICS

Eddie Plank, 39 years old, and the hero of many hard-fought battles, is Connie Mack's choice to pitch the second game of the World's Series.

RAIN THREATS TO INTERFERE WITH 2D GAME OF BIG SERIES

By BILLY SMITH.
Manager Atlanta Team.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Well, the Athletics got away with the "jump game," and I must say it's pretty good for them that they did. Also, they did it very much as I predicted they would win their victories—by line support, of fair pitching, and by everlasting hammering the opposing pitcher.

Chief Bender didn't look good to me yesterday, although he won his game—or rather, had it won for him by Collins and Frank Baker, and saved for him by Barry and Collins. In the opening game of 1911, the Chief was beaten. But the Giants got only four hits off him, and he fanned eleven men. Yesterday the big Indian was in trouble most of the time.

From where I sat—and I had a pretty good seat—Bender seemed to have little besides a glove and that grand nerve that always has been his best asset. His curve was small and hard to control, and his fast one seemed to me to lack its usual fierce jump.

But the game went as I had predicted, to the Athletics, because they were able to hit the ball hard and timely, and because their infield stood up in the pinch.

I have to admit, too, that the brains favored the Athletics.

Shaffer Falls to Get Drive.

That three-bagger of Shaffer's, which really was the turning point of the battle, was a fairly hard, low drive, but an experienced outfielder—Tommy Long, for instance—should have caught it in his pocket. Shaffer, an infielder by trade, hesitated in starting after the drive, then started to come in on it, and finally was able to get only the tips of the fingers of his gloved hand on the ball, which passed him for a triple.

The Giants came back bravely, after more slugging had put the Athletics four runs behind, and it looked as if they might tie the score, or even get out in front.

I can tell you, if I had been in Connie Mack's place on the bench, I would have had a mighty bad time of it. McGraw's men were tearing into Bender in the fifth inning. I know what he must have been suffering. But he evidently had no confidence in Bender and his help, for all he never batted an eye at the warning man, where Brown and Shawkey were screaming away.

And Bender and Baker made good—especially Baker and Collins.

Now, about what the game to-day—

Drizzling Rain Falling.

It was pretty gloomy when we got to Philadelphia, so far as weather conditions went. The populace was happy enough. About 15,000 came down to the train and carried off Frank Baker on their shoulders, or at least they tried to. He was almost mobbed by his friends.

This morning a drizzling rain was falling, and it looked as if the game might be postponed. That would be all in favor of the Athletics, as it would give Bender a longer time to rest up and get into condition for the next game he is to pitch.

If the game is played to-day, I suppose Matty and Plank will be the pitchers. McGraw did what I rather thought he would yesterday, and tried to cross up the opposition by sending in Wardlaw. It looked like a good move, as the day was dark, but Mack did not see fit to counter with Plank, and doubtless he knows that he is about. There was a rumor about town this morning that Shawkey would pitch the first game in Shibe Park, but I don't put much faith in that sort of gossip, especially when it sounds like that. Still, if Mack plans to start the kid, this would be the time.

McGraw Still Confident.

I have had some interesting talks with people mixed up in this series, at the station in New York and on the train.

$2,097.03 of Fund For Charity Raised

A total of $2,097.03 has been subscribed in the $2,000 Associated Charities fund. A number of promises have been made which are expected to materialize to-day and which will bring the total subscription over the $2,000 mark. The campaign will continue throughout Wednesday and until the full $2,000 is raised.

The amounts subscribed are averaging 100, although there are quite a number at $25. There have been many subscriptions at $10, $50 and $100.

Memphians to Pray For Prohibition Bills

MEMPHIS, Oct. 8.—A mass meeting of churchgoers and other citizens has been called by prominent laymen to take action similar to that of the Protestant Pastors Association, when the passage of prohibition law enforcement bills by the Tennessee Legislature next week.

Hopewell has signified his willingness to attend the mass meeting, which will be held here previous Thursday night.

Sunday Closing Ideas Cause Pastor to Quit

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—The Rev. James W. Moore, past president of the Southern Methodist Church at Chattanooga, quit the First Methodist Church yesterday because his congregation did not endorse his Sunday closing idea.

First Philharmonic Concert Big Success

Officials of the Atlanta Musical Association were warmly congratulated Wednesday over the notable success secured the previous afternoon by the Philharmonic Orchestra. The musicians delighted a large audience in the Atlanta Theater with an admirably rendered program, and demonstrated that the organization has a well defined place in the city's musical life.

With only a limited rehearsal, Martin Wilson conducted the orchestra surely and skillfully through the difficult passages and won unstinted appreciation for his work.

Greek Army Ready To Take Field Again

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN.

ATHENS, Oct. 8.—The Greek army has been placed upon a war footing and is now prepared for any emergency which Bulgaria or Turkey may force.

The Greeks in Southern Albania are clamoring for war and General Constantine has gone to Salonika, where he established general staff headquarters to-day.

Would Put Ban on Farmers Smoking

ROME, Oct. 8.—C. B. Goetschius, one of the wealthiest real estate dealers of Rome, would prevent a farmer from smoking his own pipe while hauling his own cotton to town in his own wagon.

Such an ordinance, introduced in City Council here, was tabled.

THE JUDGE GIVES RENO RUTH AN EARFUL ABOUT THE GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Dear Ruth: I suppose, Ray, is the softest thing I have seen since the big fight at Reno. Reminded me of that.

Well, the Athletics climbed over the ropes just as Johnson did. Knew they had everything and showed it.

Say, any team that can beat those birds has to beat out the dope, and I don't think you did. Didn't I tell you in my last letter that the old boy with the punch wins? Did you slant at Baker's recovery? Well, Collins on, he just put that old pill into the grandstand for a homer, and you never heard such a roar in your life.

Old Frank trotted from third to home with a smile on his face as wide as Broadway, and the boys on the bench threw hats, bats and sweaters in the air until it looked as though it was raining whistles and whistles.

The Giants are good enough in their league, but lay off when they try to beat a regular team. They used three pitchers trying to kill off Mack's men—but what's the use?

Did Doc Crandall Call.

Well, another Ray. He blew his job early and old Doc Crandall came in, but they handled him, too. Then they showed in Terreau. That big bird is good. He went well, but he wasn't with us long enough.

Just let Mack's men give him the only over again and I will write and tell you about it.

Listen! Did you take a slant at Collins' record? A single, a three-bagger, and when he came up again the boys expected him to slant it again and he laid down a bunt. Ha! Ha! Ha! Stood them on their heads. Baker's three hits out of four was a bear stiff, eh?

Well, another Ruth. Just a minute ago, Say, I never so excited my life as I was in the seventh inning. The score was 3 to 4 with the Athletics in the lead. Well, the old Giants got Shaffer to third and Doyle was on first. A hit, you know, would have laid the thing up. I sat back as Fletcher came up, drew in a long gob of fresh air and waited.

Fletcher drew back and lined a base right at Shaffer. On the level, I thought they would try to catch Shaffer coming home, and I took a CORDELE, Oct. 8.—Alleged false and slanderous accusations, damaging to the character of W. T. Martin, have resulted in a suit for $20,000 being filed in the Superior Court of Dooly County against T. W. Britt, one of the wealthiest planters of that county.

In his petition Martin charges that Britt made the alleged false and malicious reports common in the community by repeated accusations in vulgar and obscene language.

Commission Probes Atmore Prison Camp

MOBILE, Oct. 8.—The commission appointed by Governor O'Neal to probe the treatment of convicts by the Atmore Prison Camp, Naval Stores Company has returned from the Atmore camp, where a thorough investigation was made. Much attention was centered upon the method of whipping and the instrument used in the operation.

The finding of the committee will be submitted to the governor.

Sent to Jail When He Pleads for Comrade

Richard Curry, a negro, who was fined $25.00 Monday on a "blind tiger" charge, made matters worse Wednesday when he came before Judge Brooke to plead for Henry Thomas, another negro, arrested as an accomplice.

Curry was arrested again and placed under $500 bond, together with Thomas. The negroes were employed in a butcher shop in Bay street.

DOUGLASS CONFIDENT IN BRYAN CASE

Men Who Accuse Henslee of Prejudice of Highest Type, Says Stiles Hopkins.

Attorneys for Leo M. Frank announced Wednesday that they looked upon the trial of a new trial which will be heard Saturday.

Stiles Hopkins, one of the firm of Rogers, Brandon, Stiles & Phillips, obtained a number of the citations for the defense and investigated carefully the reputation and standing of every man from whom he took an affidavit. He was authority Wednesday for the statement that they are men of prominence and excellent repute in their communities.

They have filed depositions charging that they overheard Henslee, before the trial of Frank, uttering inflammatory remarks in regard to the defendant and desire his belief in Frank's guilt.

Henslee's reply was that he made some of the statements credited to him, but that he made them after the trial and not before.

That sort of a defense by Henslee is a most absurd one, and only comment that Mr. Hopkins would make on the statement of the juror. "Depositions which are on the show that one of the remarks of Henslee was that 'If the jury ever turns Frank loose he never will get out of Atlanta after this.' This could not have been made after the trial. He also is alleged to have said that he had been summoned as a salesman and might be a juror in the case, in which event he would like to have a part in 'breaking Frank's neck.' He could not have said this after the trial."

Prominent Men.

Mr. Hopkins said that J. J. Nunnally, one of those who had made depositions, is vice president of the W. H. Nunnally Company, of Boston, and is identified with the Nunnally & Harris Supply Company, in which capacity he met Henslee, who is an agent for buggies, whips and supplies.

None of the affidavits said the lawyer would have any occasion to make a deposition handed to Henslee unless it was the truth. All, in fact, he declared, had been most reluctant to have anything to say against the matter until they were forced to make their statements by being summoned into court.

John M. Holmes, another who swore he overheard Henslee make violent remarks against Frank, is the partner of John D. Walker, a prominent banker. The others occupy similar positions of prominence.

FOGGY SKIES PUT TO HALT GAME; 2 GIANTS STARS OUT OF FRY

By BILLY SMITH. Manager Atlanta Team.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—It was officially announced that the game will be played today. The official weather forecast issued at 10:15 said: Foggy and misty this afternoon; cloudy and unsettled tonight, probably rain.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Well, the Athletics got away with the "jumpy game," and I must say it's pretty good for them that they did. Also, they did it very much as I predicted they would win their victories—by fine sport, by pitch hitting, and by everlastingly hammering the opposing pitcher.

Chief Bender didn't look good to me yesterday, although he won his game—or rather, had it won for him by Collins and Frank Baker, and saved for him by Barry and Collins. In the opening game of 1911, the Chief was beaten. But the Giants got only four hits off him, and he fanned eleven men. Yesterday the big Indian was in trouble most of the time.

From where I sat—and I had a pretty good seat—Bender seemed to have little besides a glove and that grand nerve that always has been his best asset. His curve was small and hard to control, and his fast one seemed to me to lack its usual force.

But the game went as I had predicted, to the Athletics, because they were able to hit the ball hard and timely, and because their infield stood up in the pinch.

I have to admit, too, that the breeze favored the Athletics.

Shaffer Fails To Get Drive.

The three-bagger of Shaffer's, which really was the turning point of the battle, was a fairly hard, low drive, but an experienced outfielder—Tommy Long, for instance—should have caught it in his hip pocket. Shaffer, an infielder by trade, hesitated in starting after the drive, then started to come in on it, and finally was able to get only the tips of the fingers of his gloved hand on the ball, which passed him for a triple.

The Giants came back savagely, after more slugging had put them four runs behind, and it looked as if they might tie the score, or even get out in front.

I can tell you if I had been in Connie Mack's place on the bench, I would have had a mighty hard time while McDrew's men were tearing into Bender in the fifth inning. I know what he must have been suffering. But he evidently had let it go, for confidence in Bender and his help, for he never batted an eye at the warning gun, where Brown and Shawkey were standing away.

And Bender and Baker made good—especially Baker and Collins. Now, about about the game to-day—if any.

Drizzling Rain Fallings.

It was pretty gloomy when we got to Philadelphia, so far as weather conditions went. The populace was happy enough. About 15,000 came down to the train and carried off their umbrellas and raincoats, or at least they tried to. He was almost mobbed by his friends at noon when promising. The mist that had prevailed all during the early hours was clearing away, and indications were that there would be no more rain.

The diamond at Shibe Park had been covered with tarpaulins and had not been injured by the rain that fell during the night and early in the day.

Officials of the Athletics asserted that it would be possible to play the game unless more rain fell. I suppose Matty and Plan will be the pitchers. McDrew did what I rather thought he would yesterday, and tried to cross up the opposition by sending to Margaret. It looked like a good move, as the day was dark. But Mack did get out to counter with Plank.

Atlanta Ginning Shows Big Increase

William J. Harris, Director of Census, has approved the following report from William C. Bruce, special agent:

Fifty-three bales of cotton were ginned in Fulton County from the crop of 1912 prior to September 25, as compared with four bales ginned prior to the same date in 1912.

THE SUNDAY AMERICAN'S MARVELOUS GROWTH OF 100,000 PAID CIRCULATION SURPRISES MEN OF SOUTH

Following are expressions of opinion of some well-known men of the South on the marvelous growth of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN—over 100,000 paid circulation in six months. The first issue of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN appeared April 6, 1913. To establish Sunday newspaper with this circulation in six months is a remarkable journalistic triumph. THE SUNDAY AMERICAN HAS MORE NET PAID CIRCULATION EVERY SUNDAY THAN THE ATLANTA SUNDAY CONSTITUTION AND ATLANTA SUNDAY JOURNAL COMBINED. Here are the comments of leading men:

W. A. Candler, Capitalist, Banker, Manufacturer, Real Estate Dealer.

I am glad that THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN are here to have a part in the glorious future of Atlanta and the South and to assist in the building of this section of the country. It is indisputable that there is a powerful force working to make known to the world the advantages and the resources of Atlanta and the South. It is just as certain that they will have accomplished a great deal along this line.

THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN, together with the other newspapers owned by Mr. Hearst, have done much to bring Atlanta to the attention of the rest of the country, to an extent that would not have been possible before this time. I am confident they will continue their commendable work.

The wonderful progress and growth of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN are a credit to the South. Although it is evident that these newspapers are not met with instant favor, it is a surprise to me to learn that the paid circulation of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN now exceeds 100,000 copies. I hope the prosperity may continue.

DEL. HURT, Capitalist, Real Estate Dealer.

I am personally gratified by the fact that HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN published in Atlanta has passed the 100,000 net paid mark. This growth has been achieved in a very short time. It is a credit to the South and a credit to the enterprise and ability of its founder.

The Hearst newspapers in Atlanta have been active and pushing. They have a great deal to do in Atlanta and the South. I believe that they are here with the definite purpose of doing good for the section of the country.

The South is moving forward in all lines more rapidly and more certainly than ever before. Atlanta is in the center of this movement. It lies in the power of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE GEORGIAN to assist in this development. I am sure from the attitude already evident that this is the purpose of their coming.

FRANK COUNSEL WILL BROADEN JURY ATTACK

Argument on the motion of the defense for a new trial for Leo Frank, scheduled to be heard by Judge Ransel next Saturday, will be postponed another week, according to an interview given by Solicitor Dorsey in Atlanta Wednesday. The Solicitor declared that his progress in the investigation of the claims of Frank's attorneys had been slow, and that the State could not possibly shape its case in time for the date set.

After reinforcing their attack upon Junior A. H. Hensel Wednesday by the statements of a dozen leading men, who swore to the good character, reputation and reliability of the persons who had charged the jury with violent prejudice and bias, counsel for Leo M. Frank made the sensational announcement Wednesday that depositions would be filed before Saturday alleging prejudice against a third, and possibly a fourth, member of the jury which convicted Frank of the murder of Mary Phagan.

Though making a most careful investigation of every jury who sat in the Frank trial, the convicted man's attorneys have not let up on Hensel, as he was affiliated with Wednesday's attack. The latest affidavit is signed by a man who deposes that he overheard Hensel as long ago as last May give vent to a decided opinion of Frank's guilt.

The depositions are an element of surprise in Atlanta, according to the deposition. It was remarked in Hensel's hearing that the character of the man who deposed that he overheard Hensel as long ago as last May give vent to a decided opinion of Frank's guilt.

Hensel's defense said that the State seems to be of the opinion that the man who deposed that he overheard Hensel as long ago as last May give vent to a decided opinion of Frank's guilt.

LATEST NEWS

DELPHI, IND., Oct. 8.—A copper-colored negro answering the description of the player of Miss Ida Leeson, the Chicago art student, and giving the name of Sam Galt, was arrested by a Sheriff's posse here today after a desperate struggle.

EAGLE PASS, TEXAS, Oct. 8.—Four thousand homeless and penniless refugees from Mexico were today huddled upon an unheated and unsanitary platform outside of Eagle Pass awaiting a decision by the United States immigration authorities regarding their disposition. A majority of the refugees were women and children, and many are sick.

FORT SMITH, ARK., Oct. 8.—In a shotgun duel near Athens, Howard County, today two men were killed. The dead are W. B. Stover, farmer, Athens, and Fred Stover, farmer, Bannock, Texas.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Governor William Sulzer's defense before the high court of impeachment collapsed this afternoon with startling and surprising effect, and within 20 minutes after the defense had rested, the prosecution completed its case and the court adjourned to wait the ten hours of speaking that is to close the trial. Five hours of speaking each side. Louis Marshall will open for the defense. He will be followed by Edgar T. Brady, for the prosecution. Judge D. C. Herrick comes next with his speech for the Governor, and Alton B. Parker will make the closing address.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The currency battle in the American Bankers' Convention this afternoon resulted in a stormy outburst when Colonel McRae, of Arkansas, attacked the big bankers. McRae declared that the bankers, J. P. Morgan, J. D. Rockefeller, and the others, were the cause of the country's financial troubles.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 8.—While suffering from religious dementia, William McDonald, a young Herby worker, killed the fellow parishioners of the Church of Humanity and killed himself today. The man's last words were "I am a Christian. I am a Christian. I am a Christian."

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., Oct. 8.—It became known this afternoon that after Lincoln Beachy was taken to the hotel following the wreck of his aeroplane, he died of a heart attack. The police have no clue, as several persons were admitted to Beachy's room in the excitement of the crash.

LAREDO, TEX., Oct. 8.—General Alvarez, commander of the federal forces, was shot and probably fatally wounded today by his 18-year-old son, L. G. Bright. The shooting took place in the dining room of the Bright home, in the presence of Mrs. Bright, who, though prostrated, continued her work in the house, directed some work in the barn. Her report caused the elder Bright to draw a knife. The son then ran to the house, pursued by his father, who had everything and showed it later.

Traffic Congestion To Be Investigated

A close study of Atlanta's congested traffic conditions, with a view to improving laws for relief, will be started Thursday afternoon by a special committee of the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce.

Insurance Man Fined On Women's Charge

J. H. Harris, an insurance man with office in the Empire building, was fined $50.75 in the Recorder's Court Wednesday afternoon on the charge of two women who he had insulted.

VETERAN MATHEWSON WHO WON GREAT GAME

Son Shoots Father Who Threatened Him With a Knife

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Dear Ruth: I copied. Say, it was the softest thing I have seen since the big fight at Reno. Reminded me of that quarrel, too. The Athletics climbed over the ropes just as Johnson did. Knew they had everything and showed it later.

Say, any team that can beat those birds has to beat out the dope and that can't be done. Didn't tell you in my last letter that the old boy with the punch wins? Did you slant at Baker's record? With Collins on, he just put that old pill into the grandstand for a homer, and you never heard such a roar in your life.

Old Frank trotted from third to home with a smile on his face as wide as Broadway, and the boys on the bench threw hats, bats and sweaters in the air until it looked as though it was raining wheelbarrows and wool.

The Giants are good enough in their league, but lay off them when they try to beat a regular team. They send three pitchers trying to kill off Mack's men—but what's the use?

Old Doc C. dall called.

Say, Marquise, look at the wretched crooked-to-day. A blew his job in the game. He was a good player, but they had him, too. Then they showed in Tarsus. That big bird is good. He was well, but he wasn't with us long enough.

Just let Mack's men give him the once over again and I will write and tell you about it.

Listen! Did you make a slant at Collins' record? A single, a three-bagger, and when he came upon the boys expected him to slam it.

Old Doc C. dall called.

HITCHERS TO BATTLE TESAREU OR DEMAREE VS. SHAWKEY OR BISH

ATLANTA
GET BANK
MEETING TO-DAY

at 2 o'clock Will Clinch Victor---Georgians Lead Attack on Money Bill.

ATLANTA, Oct. 8.—Atlanta this afternoon will witness the annual meeting of the American Bankers' Association.
The meeting is the autumn of 1914. Everybody expects Atlanta to be practically the victor. Still the hopes of the association, which is only a small part of the vote at 2 o'clock is awaited with much anxiety.
The banks are among the wheel-horses of the association. They are in all the important movements of the city and its existence constantly in the mind of the association.

James A. McCord, one of the two members of the association representing the currency bill, helped the association, announced today that the currency bill "recalled" and "imposed" upon the banks and the banks and equally unwise to the general public. "This condemnation of the administration's monetary reform program is signed as the voice of the community," he said.

George E. Farnsworth, secretary of the association, announced today that he is satisfied the Georgia delegation will move their case and that the bank council will recommend to the association that Atlanta be chosen.
Executive Council Governor.
The recommendation of the executive council, announced today that the campaign being waged by the Atlanta City and County, Va., apparently has been successful.

John K. Otter, of Atlanta, who has been in the city since the campaign, said today: "There is no doubt in my mind but that Atlanta is the chosen, Secretary Farnsworth has agreed with us from Georgia that Atlanta is the place."
J. T. Powell, president of the Masonic Bank and Trust Company, is sure that Atlanta will be the convention city. He said that he made a canvass of several other delegates, and feel certain that he will win easily. In fact, I believe the opposition will amount to nothing.

The big feature of the convention today was the presentation to the convention of resolutions drawn by the currency commission. These resolutions roundly denounced the currency bill.
Financial Moves Sought.
J. T. Powell, of Marion, discussing the currency bill, by the currency commission, voiced the sentiments of a majority of the delegates when he made the following statement to-day:
"The financial situation is very perplexing. We are wandering around in darkness. At present, so far as the satisfactory solution of the money problem goes, and the advance of the country, there does not seem to be any money in sight to lead out of the wilderness into a promised land."
That is needed is a man of great experience, in whom the people of the country have unlimited confidence. No such shining light has yet appeared. As yet, we are all looking for a great leader, a financial genius.

The bank world and all of Wilson, in Georgia, and we have

Bernhardt Protege Booted Making Debut

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Bernhardt will no doubt pause before she commends another youthful pro-tectee to the good graces of an American audience when she learns what befell Miss Betty Callish, a pretty, young Dutch artist who sent to this country with a letter training her talents and bespeaking the attention of the American public.
Upon the occasion of her first appearance in this country in the Colonial Theater, Miss Callish was subjected to the indignity of being booed.

Dr. Hutchinson Holds Drink Divorce Cause

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
LONDON, Oct. 8.—Dr. Woods
Hutchinson, in a lecture before the National Council of Morale on "Husband Mistrust," said drunkenness should be a sufficient cause for divorce.
He referred to the case of a woman,
a victim of alcoholism, of whose 700 descendants two-thirds become public charges; of 600 descendants from the same father, who married another woman, only five became public charges.

Writes Feelings as He Dies From Gas

PASSAIC, N. J., Oct. 8.—In killing himself by inhaling gas Chester Pierston sat at a table and wrote his dying sentences.
"I am tired of life," he wrote. "Life is not worth living. I have turned on the gas. I can feel it getting into my lungs. I am getting weak."
Then came illegible markings.
The body was discovered by Pierston's young widow on her return from work at a factory. Pierston had been out of employment.

Ball Lost 38 Years Turns Into Stone

NORFOLK, NEB., Oct. 8.—A baseball batted over into a cornfield 38 years ago by E. K. Ballantyne, later sergeant at arms in the United States Senate, was found yesterday when excavations were being made for a new building.
The ball had completely turned to stone, but the seams and stitches were perfectly visible. A slight dent on one side marks the terrific wallop given the ball by Ballantyne.

Chicago Council to Investigate Tango

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Aldermen George P. Retzlaff introduced in the Council a resolution for an "investigation of the tango dance." His suggestion was welcomed almost with cheers. A committee will be named by the Mayor to visit dance halls and take notes. Then something may be done.
"Let's investigate all skirts, too," exclaimed Alderman Coughlin.

Rockefeller Offers To Aid Good Roads

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Oct. 8.—John D. Rockefeller took his big French touring car and inspected country roads. Upon his return he declared Cuyahoga County has some very bad roads and said he wanted to aid financially in their repair.
County Clerk George Meyers and Secretary Fred Caley of the Cleveland Automobile Club accompanied him.
"Some of these roads are certainly rotten," said Rockefeller.

'Joker' in Patent Law Can Cost Us Millions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A "joker" that might cost American manufacturers millions of dollars has been discovered in the Kalm bill recently passed by Congress to protect patents on foreign exhibits at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.
The State Department has withheld formal notification of the enactment of the law pending an effort to have it amended.

FRANK BAKER HITTING HIS HOME RUN

The photographer snapped the famous slugger just as he smote the ball the mighty blow that gave the first game to Athletics.

MAYOR BLAMES MANAGEMENT OF SCHOOLS

Mayor Woodward intimated Thursday that after making a personal inspection of the most crowded schoolhouses in Atlanta and carefully studying the reports of the principals of the various schools he might send a message to City Council in the name of advice to the Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools
William M. Slaton.
"I am inclined to believe that most of the trouble is due to the management actively in charge of the schools," he said.
"I am convinced that the overcrowding is not as bad as it has been pictured. The greatest trouble seems to me to be the distracting of the city. There doesn't seem to be much system in the division of the pupils
among the schools."

Would Remodel Buildings.

Mayor Woodward's idea is that about $50,000 spent on remodeling old buildings would give relief for the next year. He likely will advocate an appropriation for this purpose before the new Council.

Dogs Used to Chase Ticket Speculators

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Dogs imported from Europe will be used by the management of the Hippodrome to drive away ticket speculators.

THE WEATHER. Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Fair Thursday and Friday.

RUTH HANDS RUMMY A LINE OF CHATTER

By TAD.
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Dear Rummy: They made no mistake in your name when they started your family. Of all the rums I've known you're farthest south in stupidity.
If the solid bone in your head were gray matter, you'd be an intellectual colossus. Whatdayson mean lay off the giants when they play Mack's team? I repeat, whaddye mean?
I thought that old bird had some sense. Say, if he was manager of the Giants and refused to put in a pinch hitter in the ninth as he did yesterday, he'd be prosecuted only by the New York State some laws. With men on bases and one out he lets Plank and Lapp bat when Davis
Walsh and Haley set on the old bench and kept it warm. Nice work, Rummy! That's what I would call classy.
You know it was soft because you told me they had the rollers under Matty, and that he was on his way to the old mer's home. Anybody could hit him. Why, you even said that Mack might go in and bat if Matty was on the mound.

Series Bulletined in Public School Rooms

RAN JOSSE, CAL., Oct. 9.—In order to prevent the high school attendance from shrinking during the World's Series, bulletins giving the progress of the Giants-Athletics games by insurgents are being posted in every class room.
Principal C. M. Osenbaugh today declared that the scheme was entirely successful.

Swiss Seek Morgan Watch Collection

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
GENEVA, Oct. 8.—Efforts to recover the J. Pierpont Morgan collection of watches will be made by a Swiss syndicate. The collection is regarded as the best in the world.
The syndicate is trying to raise $125,000 to purchase it.

FRANK LAWYERS WILL AGREE TO WEEK DELAY

Expressing the opinion that a further delay in the hearing of the motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank will only serve to make them more secure in their case against Juror
A. H. Benzel, whom they charge with prejudice and bias, counsel for Frank Thursday indicated that they were entirely agreeable to Solicitor Dorsey's request for a postponement of another week until he should be able to complete his review of the defense's reasons.
The Solicitor, who, with his assistant, A. E. Stephens, has been going over the voluminous amended motion of the defense with its 115 reasons for a new trial since its filing last week by Frank's lawyers, refuses to discuss the case except to express his confidence that a new trial will be denied. He stands firmly by his original declaration that the defense is without adequate grounds to ask for a new trial.
He and Attorney Stephens, isolating themselves in Valdosta, where they will not be interrupted by office visitors, have given their entire time to the preparation of their argument against any movement which will reopen the sensational murder case.
While the hearing before Judge Roan, set originally for October 4, will have few of the spectacular features that marked the trial of Frank, the lawyers are making ready for a litany struggle.
The Solicitor is determined that the verdict of guilty shall stand. He is using every means to stave off what he regards as the remote possibility of a reversal of the verdict that brought the death sentence to the defendant.
Solicitor Dorsey prepared his request Wednesday for a delay of another week in the hearing. Judge Roan already had made known his willingness to extend the time if it was made by the Solicitor. When he learned that Dorsey would not be ready next Saturday he promptly announced that the delay would be granted in accordance with his promise.
The delay was granted by his stationary of carrying him by his station.

Kaiser Divides Man's Wealth With Widow

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Emperor William has agreed to a compromise in connection with the estate of $100,000 left to him by Hermann Knorr, a painter, but eccentric world dealer of Karlsruhe.
He has consented to take one-half and allow the widow to keep the remainder.

Conductor Is Shot On Crowded Car

H. J. Doolan, a conductor on the East Point car line, who was shot by an unknown white man Wednesday night was reported to be resting well at Grady Hospital Thursday morning. Doolan was shot in the arm near the shoulder.
The assailant, a young man, was witnessed by the man accused of the crime of carrying him by his station.

SKIES NOW LOWERING, PROMISE TO CLEAR IN TIME FOR THIRD GAME

By Billy Smith
Manager Atlanta Team.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The weather bureau relent in its attitude toward the World's Series at 9 o'clock to-day and issued the following forecast:
"Continued cloudy with light precipitations."
The regular forecast had predicted rain that would prevent playing of the third contest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—To begin with, the weather this morning looks as if the third game of the World's Series would be called off sure enough. The weather man says a storm is pending, and it looks to me as if it is pending pretty close, too.

If the game is rained out, of course that will change the looks of the rest of the series, and there is no doping out what ought to happen from now on, because there's no telling how long it will be before the next game, or what conditions it will be played under.

The pitching lay-out for this afternoon, if the game is played, seems to be one of Mack's youngsters against Jeff Tesareu—Probably Shawkey. Bush is the second choice. There is no chance that Mack will try to send Bender back, even in the face of the Polo Grounds crowd. He will take a chance with a youngster, and I think he is right about it.

Schang will catch for the Athletics and big Larry McLean for the Giants. McGraw is certainly having tough luck with his team in the way of injuries.

Marquis Katsura Is Thought Near Death

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
TOKYO, Oct. 9.—Marquis Taro Katsura, former Prime Minister and Minister of War for Japan, sank rapidly today, and fears were expressed that he would not survive another hours.
He is ill of a complication of diseases which have affected his brain.

'Faints' in Saloons For Drinks; Fined

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Joseph Flynn was fined $5 and costs for entering several saloons and pretending to be faint. He was given whisky to "revive" him.
In the last saloon he went to sleep
on the floor.

BACKACHE VANISHES

FEW DOSES OF CROXONE EASE STIFF, SORE, SWOLLEN JOINTS AND MUSCLES, RELIEVING BACKACHE AND BLADDER DISORDERS.

If you suffer with backache, have pains in the neck or shoulders, nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve you. And you will be surprised how quickly all bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone promptly relieves these diseases because it really does reach the real cause. It seeps right into the walls and linings of kidneys, cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs, neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid, and makes the kidneys fit to do their blood the Croxone is absorbed into the muscles to scratch and irritate the matter that lodge in the joints and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and gives the kidneys new strength so they can filter the blood and keep you well.

Croxone is different from other medicines as it is so gentle that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An unfortunate man who Croxone could not cure, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it should fail in a single case.

The advertisement features a large, detailed illustration of a whiskey bottle on the left side. The bottle has a dark body and a light-colored label with the letters "R.W." prominently displayed. To the right of the bottle is a rectangular coupon area. At the top of the coupon is a circular logo containing a shield with the letter "R" and the words "TRADE MARK" above it. Below the logo, the word "WHISKEY" is written in a large, bold, serif font. Underneath "WHISKEY" is the text "THE BLENDED DISTILLERY".

There are three horizontal lines for writing below the text. A small number "7607" is printed at the bottom right of the coupon area.

GARY OPTIMISTIC
OVER BUSINESS
PROSPECTSSteel Trust Head Says People Are Wiser and Administration Is Just.

By B. C. FORBES.
(Copyright, 1915, by Star Company.)

I had a long, enlightening, heart-to-heart talk the other day with Judge Gary, commander-in-chief of the steel trust, industrial army in the world perhaps the hardest, and certainly one of the best-fitted positions in America.

Judge Gary is democratic rather than autocratic. He has always favored a vigorous campaign against the overworking and underpaying of employees against all dangerous phases of work and in favor of enabling workers to become personally interested in the annual profits.

With a frankness that startled his political opponents at Washington some time ago, Judge Gary declared he had not the slightest objection to having the Government regulate industry even to the length of limiting prices in certain cases and under certain conditions. He is not bigoted, as you will thus see.

Before quoting what Judge Gary said to me, I should explain that our talk was strictly confidential, and that not one word of it was meant for publication. I was so impressed, however, with some of the Judge's statements that I succeeded in persuading him to allow me to print them. He said, for example:

The gravest menace to this country is that the politicians who rule affairs to-day have so little at stake in the outcome of their acts.

They are little affected if they turn prosperity into depression.

One of them have large bodies of employees dependent upon them for regular work at living wages. If they had they would count the cost of action, they would feel a heavier weight of responsibility.

After all, a nation is dependent upon its business activities and success. Unless you can fill a nation's stomach it is useless to talk him about non-material things.

You can't build on an empty stomach. This applies to both nation and man.

During my vacation I have had time to think things over, to notice the general trend of the times, I have felt uneasy for the last two years. I could see many things were elements in our social and political life.

But I have changed my views somewhat. I now feel more optimistic—more like my old self. I believe the public are beginning to see things in the right light. They are less ready to be stampeded by demagogues. They are getting tired of corporate monopolies, of senseless attacks upon capital.

They are beginning to realize that their own welfare is bound up with the welfare of general business more than with the selfish demands of the few.

The great majority of the people have stopped listening to revolutionary propaganda. They don't want to turn our institutions upside down. We have, I hope, escaped the outburst of hysteria that has so often threatened to drive frightfully disastrous.

What has all the political chatter about our company succeeded in? What have all the resolutions revealed? Has a thing been accomplished—anything whatever—been discovered?

This corporation after in its history had down these maxims: "We are very big. The only way we can succeed is by being absolutely fair and above-board—fair to our men, fair to competitors, fair to consumers and frank with the public."

We have tried honesty and candor, and have lived up to that. And have you heard, in all the noise raised against the politicians, one word of condemnation by the people for the customer or employee? Have they been clamored for? Have they been clamored for? Have they been clamored for? Have they been clamored for?

May we not be entitled to know for this, but we certainly do not deserve censure.

Questioned on the business outside of the steel industry, Judge Gary referred to the uncertainty that would inevitably attend the initiation of a tariff, but said that, nevertheless, he was hopeful that general business would be of satisfactory volume.

Concerning conditions and prospects in the steel industry, he made no statement.

With basic conditions good and in view of the present attitude of mind, he said, we have reason to be hopeful of the business prospects.

SCHOOL 'COMFORTS' THAT MAKE STUDY HOUR A TORTURE

DELIGHTS on GEORGIA
POLITICS.
By JAMES B. NEVIN

Superintendent H. S. Bowden, of Blakely, the well-known educator, has announced himself a candidate for State School Commissioner, to succeed the present commissioner, M. L. Brittain.

Professor Bowden will have but one big and instant plank in his platform—State school books, written by Georgians, printed by the State, to be furnished the children at cost.

The professor proposes to go straight to the people with this issue, and say he will stump Georgia from one end to the other—and they think he is some stump speaker, moreover.

This issue of State school books, printed by the State was quite a lively topic in the Legislature at the summer session, and it seems that the matter is to be fought to a finish between this time and the primaries next fall.

In his official platform, Professor Bowden says: "Georgia was the first State in the Union to establish a State University. A Georgia institution was the first in the world to confer upon a woman a college degree. Then why should not Georgia be a friend to her educational servants and create a market for her school book writers by publishing and adopting school books written by Georgians?"

"The patronage and law of the State should be jealous of any competition that would discount in the least the ability of her educators. Instead of importing school books, Georgia educators should be encouraged by the patronage of her own institutions to export them."

"The next Legislature should pass a law abolishing all school book contracts where Georgia authors were not given a preference, and establish a protected opportunity for her own educational servants."

No doubt Professor Bowden will be able to stir up considerable interest through this platform, even if he does not get elected there.

And, anyway, next year bids fair to be a lively one in politics, and one can not predict nowadays what may happen.

The disposition of the Western and Atlantic Railroad is sure to be one of the very hottest topics of discussion for the next few months, not only among statesmen, real and nominal, but among business men and taxpayers generally.

There is a very great and emphatic diversity of opinion throughout Georgia with respect to the State road. Some think it should be released upon the most advantageous terms possible; others that it should be sold outright, and still others that it should be extended to the Atlantic Ocean, and possibly operated by the State itself.

There is no dispute that the road is Georgia's biggest and most valuable asset. In the matter of disposing of it for a new term of years, therefore, there is bound to arise sharp differences of opinion, and a solution will not be found without difficulty.

One of the great dangers in the way of a businesslike disposition of the road, perhaps, will be the politics that inevitably will get into the negotiations. There will be subtle jockeying for position, to begin with—it already has begun—and there will be strenuous striving eventually to make capital of the thing before it is finished.

In the past, two schools of political thought in Georgia have squabbled over the Western and Atlantic road interminably—and under the cover of Georgia—that's all!

Any person who doubts that statement is not keeping up with things in Georgia—that's all!

The State road is a mighty valuable piece of property—too valuable to be sacrificed or in any way endangered by political differences and animosities.

John Marshall Stetson, three several calls fill into the proprietor of a Greek restaurant on Alabama street, Tuesday when he walked in quietly, seated himself on a high stool and ordered a slice of pie and a glass of sweet milk for lunch.

The Governor, excitedly, the boss of the shop hurried to a waiter and asked him if he knew who that man on the high stool was.

"The water said, no the waiter didn't know anything in particular, or at least out of the ordinary, to him."

"Well," said the boss, in an awed undertone, "that's the Governor of Georgia, and you want to see that he gets the best in the shop, and gets it quick!"

The waiter remained unimpressed. Finally, he said, "What you been smoking, Constantine? That ain't no governor. That's a newspaper man."

"No, it ain't no newspaper man," said the boss, "It's Mr. Stetson, the Governor! Gee, it looks good to see him in here!"

The Governor finally finished his pie and milk, paid his bill and walked out. The boss was awestruck all day over the incident, but the waiter doesn't believe it yet.

There seems to be no possibility of opposition to "Charlie" Crisp in the Third District for re-election to Congress, although some rumbling was heard down that way recently.

The impression seems to be that Crisp is getting along mighty well in Congress, and that there is no reason, really, why he should be disturbed.

The truth of the matter is that Crisp is an unusually influential Congressman for a first-term, because he was the House parliamentarian for two years before he was elected to Congress; and by reason of his distinguished father's high standing he has almost grown up among intimate inside affairs in Washington.

And, anyway, Crisp is not, in the strict sense of the word, a "watermelon." He served part of a term in Congress several years ago—just after his father died—having been elected to fill out the unexpired term of his father.

Atlanta Ad Man Warns Builders to Clear Streets

Paul Reese Victim of Joker During Visit to the Federal Penitentiary.

Paul P. Reese, of the Atlanta Ad Man's Club, had something new to talk about Thursday. He was telling his friends, with little joy but with excessive energy, what a mean trick his fellow Ad Men played on him Wednesday afternoon when the club, 20 in number, visited the Federal prison.

Mr. Reese did all his visiting in one cell. He was locked up during a demonstration of the toilet locking system and was liberated exactly one hour, later—when the Ad Men had seen it all and were ready to go.

The invitation to visit the prison was extended to the club by Warden Moore and accepted several weeks ago. Wednesday afternoon a luncheon was held at the Ansley, after which the Ad Men went to the prison in automobiles. The tour of the institution was made under the personal guidance of Warden Moore and Deputy Warden Warner.

Those in the party were Paul P. Reese, A. M. Beatty, J. M. Beasley, Thomas A. Ratliff, Irving Hawtin, Joseph W. Hill, W. R. Jester, Henry W. Grady, Paul Wesley, William J. Davis, W. P. Howard, J. W. Gibson, W. R. Bean, D. R. Bostee, H. M. Niswanger, J. C. Stanford, William F. Parkhurst, N. F. Wolfe, Julian Bohm, L. E. Magie, Thurston Hatcher, W. H. Griffin, H. O. Hastings, John D. Kearney, J. M. O'Grady, H. A. Manning, I. J. Cassett, W. A. Horn, O. C. Long, W. Mac Jones, E. L. Goodhart, Harry A. Auer, Jack Lewis, Howard Goldstein and Kendall Weinger.

BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT FACTORIES

Chamber of Commerce Committee Named to Fix Itinerary of "See-Atlanta-First" Trip.

An excursion through industrial Atlanta with a view to making the business men acquainted with the extent of local manufacturing institutions is planned by the Industrial and Statistical Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. A committee to arrange the itinerary has been appointed, composed of W. H. Leahy, secretary of the bureau, and E. H. Shaw.

The trip will be wholly educational. It is proposed to visit every manufacturing plant in the city.

A joint meeting of the public market committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a committee from the Retail Merchants' Association, headed by President O. T. Camp, has been called for Wednesday afternoon, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

No definite action will be taken by the committee, but it is proposed to thoroughly discuss the need of a public market.

Mt. Vernon Revival Meets With Success

The revival services in the Mount Vernon Methodist Church at Inman Yard, which have been conducted with great success by the Rev. John Yearbook, of Jefferson, and the Rev. Charles A. Bass, the pastor, will be continued until the end of the week.

A number of persons have professed religion, many of them railroad employees who are holding daily prayer services in the shops.

Councilman Hall announced he was preparing to make a fight against the present method of issuing permits to contractors and builders for the erection of barriers on the streets.

He said that a resolution pending before the street committee makes the consent of Council necessary before a permit can be issued. Under the present arrangement one may be obtained from the Mayor or the Chief of Construction or the chairman of the street committee.

RACE FOR MAYOR
PRO TEM WARMS

Launching of Campaign by Alderman Ragsdale Makes Spirited Fight Certain.

The race for Mayor Pro Tem of Atlanta, to be elected by Council the first Monday in January, loomed up Thursday as the most important issue in city politics with the launching of an active campaign for Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, of the Tenth Ward.

Alderman James R. Nutting, with strong support, has been making a vigorous canvass for the place for some weeks, and the activities of Alderman Ragsdale and his friends means a hot fight. Not enough members have committed themselves to make the outcome of the race the least bit certain.

Alderman J. H. Harwell, of the First Ward, also has announced for the place, but he has conducted a very quiet campaign so far. The terms of James E. Warren, Mayor Pro Tem and Alderman from the Third Ward, both expire on January 1, and he can not be a candidate for re-election.

Wilson Places Ban On Roller Towels

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The roller towel which has been a feature many years in Government buildings was abolished today "in the interests of the public health" by an order of President Wilson. Individual towels will replace the rollers.

LADIES! DARKEN
YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmothers' time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But, having at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Dodd's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

USE OF CALOMEL
PRACTICALLY STOPPED

For Bilious Attacks, Constipation and All Liver Troubles. Dangerous Calomel Gives Way to Dodd's Liver Tonic.

Every druggist in the State has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. While Dodd's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," say druggists who sell it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it failed to give relief in every case of constipation, it would not ask for your money back. It will be perfectly returned.

Dodd's Liver Tonic is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy—harmless to both children and adults. A bottle in the house may save you a day's work or keep your children from missing school. Keep your liver working and your liver will keep you from working.—(Adv.)

THE Atlan'a Telephone & Telegraph Company wishes to present the following facts for your consideration:

☑ We have 155 employees on our pay roll.

☑ We pay annually for wages, taxes, supplies and to Atlanta tradesmen over $172,000.

☑ We are handling an average of about 70,000 calls per day, costing our subscribers a trifle over eight mills per call.

☑ Our rate for a business telephone is $48 per year, while the average rate of ten other American cities of similar size without competition is $86.60 per annum.

☑ There are approximately 13,000 business phones in Atlanta with an average rate of about $62. A saving of only $20 per instrument would amount to $260,000 per annum, exclusive of nearly as much saved to residence users.

☑ We offer you a highly efficient telephone service at reasonable rates, and earnestly solicit a part of your patronage.

LEADERS IN BUSINESS SHOW PRAISE SUCCESS OF SUNDAY AMERICAN

I have been greatly impressed by the editorial policy of this paper. I am not surprised that they have had a remarkable growth. I don't know much about newspaper circulation, but I know that a circulation of more than 100,000 net paid of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN within six months after its birth is an important accomplishment. It is well worthy of Atlanta and this section to maintain such a large newspaper. Maintaining the large circulation newspaper in the South Atlanta strengthens its title as the Dixie's Gate City.

OSCAR ELIAS, president Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills.

The attaining of a net paid circulation of 100,000 by THE SUNDAY AMERICAN is a remarkable achievement. It is illustrative of Atlanta and just what Atlanta wants. I think Mr. Hearst and his staff have displayed sagacity in the establishment of the paper. I am sure that any metropolitan paper that exceeds it, if, in fact, there is any that comes up to it, it is a splendid newspaper. I have read it and the reading of it is sufficient explanation of why it has broken the records in circulation of Sunday newspapers. I have noted its growth with interest and wish for THE SUNDAY AMERICAN the greatest success.

WILMER MOORE, President Chamber of Commerce.

A circulation of 100,000 net paid for THE SUNDAY AMERICAN is easily understood. I am extremely delighted to know that THE SUNDAY AMERICAN has passed this mark. It is truly Atlanta's newspaper—a live, snappy paper, with hustle and brio in it. I have read it and the reading of it is sufficient explanation of why it has broken the records in circulation of Sunday newspapers. I have noted its growth with interest and wish for THE SUNDAY AMERICAN the greatest success.

ROBERT F. MADDOX, Vice President American National Bank and Former Mayor.

The accomplishment of a circulation of more than 100,000 net paid in six months by HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN is remarkable. These figures, together with the statement of THE GEORGIAN'S circulation, are proof of the progressive policies of these papers.

The Hearst newspapers in Atlanta are assets of wonderful possibility for Atlanta and this section of the South. Their birth and growth among us come at a time when the public and advertising are capable of giving it most needed and can do most good in our section.

I am firmly convinced that we are on the eve of the greatest commercial and industrial era we have ever known. When we think of the fact that Georgia's cotton crop this year will be worth approximately $20,000,000—equally distributed, $80 each for every man, woman and child, white and black, in the State—we get some idea of the property that is approaching. The biggest crop we have ever raised means that most of this money will stay in the State.

It is a time to let the world know that a good section this is to live and do business in. Atlanta as the nucleus of the South section will ride to prosperity on the crest of the wave.

What the Hearst newspapers can do for the section has been illustrated. Their increasing circulation is evidence of the soundness of the field and gives them power for greater good. The whole Hearst chain of newspapers added materially the fight for the Imperial Canal of the Mistic Shrimp. All of them are housing Atlanta for the next convention of the American Bankers Association. His Boston newspapers, where the convention of the American Bankers Association is being held this week, are in a position to give special aid to the movement to have Atlanta selected as the next meeting place, and it seems assured that we will get the 1914 convention.

The Shurtree meeting and the bankers' convention will put Atlanta in the forefront of American convention cities. These are some of the reasons I am glad to see the Hearst newspapers in Atlanta succeeding.

JOHN D. LITTLE, Lawyer.

The growth of the Hearst newspapers in Atlanta is another proof of the wonderful opportunity.

Hooper Recovers His Stolen Watch

A gold watch that was stolen on June 2 from Frank A. Hooper, the attorney who was associated with Solicitor Dorsey in the trial of Leo St. Paul, was recovered at a Peter street pawnshop by detectives Wednesday and restored to the owner.

The watch was stolen from Mr. Hooper by two bandits who attacked him as he was walking to his home, No. 729 Piedmont avenue. Mr. Hooper was knocked down and the watch taken from his pocket.

Shooting in Church Breaks Up Revival

DALTON, Oct. 8.—A revival meeting at Center Hill, Murray County, has been discontinued following a gun fight in the church.

During services two men engaged in an altercation, one being hit with a brass knuckle, after which he drew a pistol and began firing in the church. The minister and members of the congregation hastily made their exit by doors and windows. No arrests were made.

Capt. English Thinks Gov. Sulzberger Guilty

SAVANNAH, Oct. 8.—Sulzberger would be kicked out of office, declared Captain J. W. English, of Atlanta, in Savannah today, on his return from New York.

"Politics in New York and Georgia are not of the same variety," he said, "but the greater part, or any part, of the things they have moved against Sulzberger would mean his impeachment in Georgia in less time than it takes to tell about it."

Savannah Seeks U. S. Aid in Pellagra Study

SAVANNAH, Oct. 8.—A strong effort is being made by Congressman Charles G. Edwards to have Savannah designated as the chief station in the South of the study and prevention of pellagra.

A step in this direction has already been made by the Marine Hospital here, in charge of Dr. C. H. Laydner. He is regarded as the expert in the study of the disease and has made several valuable experiments.

TRADE BODY NAMES OFFICERS. CHATSWORTH, Oct. 8.—The Murray Chamber of Commerce has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, S. M. Barnett; Secretary and Treasurer, H. H. Anderson; Vice President, C. N. King and T. E. Mullins; Directors, H. E. Nelson, E. R. Glenn and R. P. Blair.

LEADERS IN BUSINESS IN SOUTH PRAISE SUCCESS OF SUNDAY AMERICAN

of these two great papers. My best wishes are with them.

DR. JOSEPH JACOBS, Druggist: It is unnecessary for me to say that THE SUNDAY AMERICAN has been a great success in the South. The increase in their circulation is sufficient proof of this fact.

I have been greatly impressed by the editorial policy of the two papers. I have no doubt that they are a young man has been given a "lift" and a new aim in life through the trenchant editorials and the accompanying aptness of Winsor McCay, Hal Orlman, Tad and the other artists. It would be difficult to surmise the admirable articles by Mr. Hearst's corps of fearless writers and thinkers. They are always at the grave perils which menace the country, and they hit the mark.

The Hearst editorials attack wrongs which have been neglected by the other papers of the country up to this time. I admire them for it. They are accomplishing an immense amount of good.

JOHN F. MADDOX, Vice President American National Bank and Former Mayor: The accomplishment of a circulation of more than 100,000 net paid circulation mark is a great achievement. It is my wish that continued success will reward the able efforts of Mr. Hearst in this section of the country.

JAMES NUNNALLY, President of the Nunnally Company: It is with a feeling of satisfaction that I learn of THE SUNDAY AMERICAN's great accomplishment in passing the 100,000 net paid circulation mark. To do this within six months after the beginning of publication I believe to be one of the most remarkable feats in newspaper history. I regard THE SUNDAY AMERICAN as a valuable acquisition to the Atlanta territory. It is a wonderfully attractive paper, and is a welcome visitor to me each week.

FRANK HAWKINS, President Third National Bank: Mr. Hearst's wisdom in establishing the Atlanta newspaper could not have been better illustrated than in the attaining of a circulation of more than 100,000 net paid by THE SUNDAY AMERICAN.

JOHN D. LITTLE, Lawyer: The growth of the Hearst newspapers in Atlanta is another evidence of the rich-ness of the field and gives them power for greater good. The whole Hearst chain of newspapers aided materially the fight for the Imperial Council of the Y.M.C.A. in the South. All of them are working Atlanta for the next convention of the American Bankers Association. Their cooperation in being held this week are in a position to give the Atlanta selected as the next meeting place, and it seems assured that we will get the 1914 convention.

The Shrine meeting and the convention will put Atlanta in the forefront of American convention cities. Those are some of the reasons I am glad to see the Hearst newspapers in Atlanta succeeding.

WILLIAM MOORE, President Chamber of Commerce: The attaining of a net paid circulation of 100,000 by THE SUNDAY AMERICAN is a remarkable achievement. It is illustrative of the growth of the Atlanta newspaper and just what Atlanta and its people have displayed sagacity in the establishment of the paper. I don't know of any metropolitan paper that exceeds it, in fact, there is no paper that comes to it. It is a splendid newspaper. I like to read it, and the reading of it has broken the records in circulation of Sunday newspapers. I have noted its growth with interest and wish for THE Hearst's greatest success.

reminds me of Whitehall and Peachtree. I walked along these two streets Saturday and was struck by the wonderful metropolitan touch to the crowd. It is the interest thing to—

It is with the newspapers the nearest thing to THE SUNDAY AMERICAN published in Atlanta. It is a splendid illustration of the Atlanta spirit—always ahead.

Inspection Protects Accounts for Guano

Notes for fertilizer must be paid by farmers and merchants, where the guano manufacturer has complied with all the requirements of the law regarding inspection and analysis. In the event the fertilizer is branded as a better grade than it really is, the manufacturer can collect above the price of the real grade.

Crusade Started to Keep Store Screens

Inspector Miller, of the City Health Department, has started a crusade against merchants who leave their screen doors open, and has made more than a dozen cases in the past three days.

Atlanta 'Hello Girls' Are Shown in Movies

Atlanta "hello girls" away from the worries and responsibilities of the switchboard, are being shown in the movies this week.

The young women, employees of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, were snapped by the movie men as they enjoyed themselves in summer camp. At Bartlett the movie men saw they were being displayed at the Lahier Theater.

AMERICAN within a few months after its first issue. It is a delight to every Atlanta to know that Atlanta exists, and in establishing this mark for Southern Journalists THE SUNDAY AMERICAN has made an enviable record. It is a paper which I hold in the highest regard. I especially do so in editorial pages appeal to me. Scintillatingly brilliant, deep and fair, the editorials furnish me with my most interesting reading. I admire the manner in which THE SUNDAY AMERICAN is for not out and the new appearance. I think it is the "nerf" for the South, a news source which every Southerner should appreciate.

JOHN E. MURPHY, Capitalist: THE SUNDAY AMERICAN certainly is to be congratulated on building its circulation to more than 100,000. It is one of the best advertisements Atlanta has ever had. With such a following it is capable of exercising wonderful influence on progress and enlightenment. Atlanta is proud of her record for doing big things. To have the largest newspaper in the South is an addition to the list of record enterprises.

Calling Attention to Special Things in Each Department

Things That Prove the Low Cost of Dressing

Indeed it is quite possible to dress well—to wear the things of good style, the sort of things you find at ALLEN'S, within a limited income. Follow this suggestion, come here and see for yourself. Count this an invitation to discover here the Ready-to-Wear that means good clothes at lowest possible cost.

A Wise Choice of Suits At Modest Prices

There are few things that give women as much pleasure as choosing their winter clothes—testing the becomingness of the change of fashion and that touch of new color. And here are suits innumerable, each one being the economic purchase.

Suits at $19.75 Some are strictly tailored, some suggest a little more dressiness, of diagonals, serges and fancy mixtures. Black, and a splendid assortment of colors, and quality surprising, including Misses' model like cut.

Suits at $25 We have an unequalled line of suits at this price. Cloth, serge and other new and beautiful rough finished clothes so much in favor. Black, blue, the new browns, greens and mahogany.

Suits at $35 Distinguishing are the styles shown at this price. Exclusive model of foreign inspiration, in all the new and rare colors. These styles are represented in the picture shown.

The Fashionable Sport Coat

It's hard to connect the going of summer with the arrival of winter without the thought of just such a coat. It was created for these between-season times.

Auto Coats of Wombro Chinchilla Navy blue and two shades of gray—a very attractive and very practical coat—a $25 value—$18.75.

One of the first of the fall weddings will be that of Miss Kathryn Gordon and Mr. Harrison Jones, which takes place Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. A broad social interest centers in the event, both young people being members of prominent families who enjoy a wide personal popularity. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Jones gave a buffet supper at their Peachtree street residence, following the church rehearsal. The guests included only the bride party, the officiating minister and the out-of-town wedding guests. The affair was marked by elaborate details and cordial hospitality.

The hall was adorned with great jars and vases of red and white flowers, with foliage plants, palms and ferns in all apartments. Supper was served at small tables, each adorned with cut flowers. The table in the dining room was adorned with a basket of white roses and awanonia, tied with green tulle and a color scheme of green and white was carried out in detail.

Miss Jones wore French blue chiffon, draped with black chiffon. She was assisted by Miss Lila Dean Jones, who was gowned in white chiffon with a border of hand-painted pink roses, and by Miss Boiling Jones, who wore white satin and lace. Miss Gordon's costume was of old rose hued, combined with rare lace, with a border of hand-painted pink roses. Among the guests were Mrs. George Moore, of Quincy, Fla.; Mrs. William H. Crawford and Miss Norma Eliza, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benning Crawford, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sanders, of Henric, and Mr. Frank Foley, of Columbus.

The wedding will be followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's father, Mr. William Miller Gordon. Miss Norma Eliza, of Columbus, will be maid of honor, and Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., will be bridesmaid. Miss Lila Dean Jones will be first bridesmaid, and Miss Lucy Hoke Smith and Laura Adams will be bridesmaids. Mr. Sanders Jones will be best man, and the usher.

DANCING. Miss Mosley's class will reopen for the fall and winter season Thursday, October 8, at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening at her studio, 424 Peachtree street. Miss Mosley is bringing from New York the very latest and most fashionable ballroom dances, including the Marlowe's Brazilian maxine, the hostessing waltz, the tango and the one-step and many beautiful new classical, descriptive and national dances.—Advt.

Richmond and Atlantic City Workers No Match for Boosters From Gate City.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 8.—It is practically settled that the 1914 convention of the American Bankers Association will be held in Atlanta.

When the Georgia delegation, and particularly the bankers from Atlanta, started Wednesday morning on their third day's work of booking the Southern city, they found little to be done. They have scattered Atlanta bankers and Atlanta literature.

Smart Little Dancing Frocks At $9.75 In the Little Blue Room

Remarkable that so much chic and charm could be put into dresses at this price—but therein lies the difference between the dresses from a maker who knows how and those of the ordinary maker. The former takes the same materials and produces a triumph, while the latter, a dress that may or may not be pretty.

These we tell of are of chiffon, accordion-plaited—several styles to choose from. One, chiffon over net, has a bodice of shadow lace, veiled with chiffon, a crushed chiffon girdle, a double flounce skirt—fresh, new, dainty. Another has satin girdle with corsage bouquet.

Choose from white, pink, pale yellow and morning light blue.

Evening Dresses of Exquisite Lines at $18.75

A bodice of fine shadow laces inset with points of crepe de chine, a pearl ornament at the front, the skirt a plaited tunic of crepe de chine over shadow lace. The crepe de chine is a superb, soft quality. Another is of crepe charmeuse, with a long flowing sash of the same fabric. These in white, pink and pale blue.

They are unusual dresses!

We doubt if $18.75 has ever bought such distinctive, delightful evening dresses.

These Coats They Call the Sport Coats

There is a something about them that marks them as a distinctive 1913 novelty—and this is a season of novelties.

They are decidedly smart and decidedly serviceable. It is quite a fad to wear them with these new plaid skirts.

There are white ones of chinchilla at $18.75, and Kelly green, red, Copenhagen and navy ones at $10, $12.50 and $15.00. These are of chinchilla, boucle and velour de laine, with or without belts, big patch pockets and oval buttons.

Fresh Dainty Undermuslins

The new Fall stocks of undermuslins show some extraordinary values. Women making ready for the Fall have surprises in store for them. Novel ideas of trimmings are shown.

Superb qualities of nainsooks are shown—in garments at unusually low prices.

But these are the points that women once seeing will not have to be told of—they will know that now is an opportunity to make themselves ready against future needs.

Gowns of nainsook, high neck and long sleeve, low neck and short sleeve. The word dainty took how effectively embroideries and fine laces and ribbons have been used in sleeves and yokes. They set a new standard of value at 95c, $1.25 and $1.50.

Drawers at 50c. Among these are many of the new flat drawers variously trimmed with embroideries, others with hemstitched tucks. They are of a soft, evenly woven muslin.

Corset Covers at 50c—Novel trimmings, since the laces and embroideries are combined in new and very effective ways. The nainsook is a revelation for 50c corset covers.

Outing Gowns, that are out of the ordinary, in that the patterns and colors are neater and daintier than usual—some plain, others striped and checked. These at 50c, 75c, 95c, to $2.00.

$1 and $1.50 Corsets 49c

This is a clearing up. Included are many kinds of corsets that are always $1.00 and $1.50.

As a rule they have medium bust, long skirt and four hose supporters.

The size range is limited to Numbers 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24.

Those who are earliest will have best picking.

Silk Petticoats to Match Your Skirt

We doubt if there is a color missing. You may choose from an all-silk jersey, light sturdy, supple, or messaline, narrow flounce, at $2.98, $3.98, $5.00 and $5.95.

HERE'S "HOME RUN" BAKER, WHOSE CIRCUIT CLOUT WAS FEATURE OF OPENING GAME

MATTY CHASES WITH RABBIT ON QUAKERMOUND

Ticket Scandal in Philadelphia Even Worse Than It Was in New York.

By W. J. McConaughy.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—With a laugh and a jest and a song or two, the entire animated section of the population of this place headed for a location known as Shibe Park at an unbecomingly early hour to-day to witness the second game of the great World's Baseball Championship Series between the Athletics and the well-known Giants.

The cause of the laughter and rejoicing of the populace is not far to seek. The news of the victory of the Athletics over the Giants by a score of 4 to 1 yesterday game permeated even to this spot overnight, and these people are so strangely constituted that they think as much of the Athletics as we do of the Giants. It consequently was figured that somewhere about 40,000 of the more nearly wide awake citizens of this city would attend the obsequies this afternoon.

Mathewson and Frank were slated to pitch.

One thing, practically every man, woman and child in the city was to-day to-day, and the people hereabouts got out the same as that came over with William Penn and the furniture antiques. Lord Howe's office, hypothesized it to the Pittman line, and bet the proceeds on the entire and any part of the aid series.

These maddest sports had reached the stage to-day where they were to bet three and four to one that the Athletics would win the series, and there were even a few bets as even money that the Giants would win. Another game of these mad sports they make their bets down here. A number of these mad sports they make their bets down here. A number of these mad sports they make their bets down here.

As it is to-day, about three-fourths of the population is running around looking for a chance to bet on the Athletics. The management of the quarter is equally active for a chance to bet the management.

BECAUSE THEY GOT TO BENDER, GIANTS CLOUT

Athletics Expended Their All. Losers Have Plenty in Reserve, Says Sam Crane.

By Sam Crane.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—I'll tell you the reason why the Athletics lost yesterday. It was because they got to Bender. Bender is a man who has a lot of reserves. He has a lot of reserves. He has a lot of reserves.

There was nothing done by the Athletics yesterday although they won. The Athletics had a lot of reserves. They had a lot of reserves. They had a lot of reserves.

The Giants had a lot of reserves. They had a lot of reserves. They had a lot of reserves. They had a lot of reserves.

This Young "Old World" Will Never Be Overcrowded

Scientists Need Not Worry About That. A Wisdom Bigger Than Their Attends to Our Problems.

(Copyright, 1913.)

When Columbus landed on American soil the population of this continent was possibly a million—perhaps less.

The squaws had babies nearly every year, but the squaws' husbands killed each other off so fast, and hunger and ignorance killed the squaws' daughters off so fast, that after thousands of years of "multiplying," the whole population of the North American continent was less than the population of Brooklyn, N. Y., to-day.

The wisely foolish view with alarm the fact that we have ninety millions of people on this continent now; that we have five millions cooped up in one big city.

And wisdom asks, "Where is the thing to end? What will happen to this earth when there are more human beings on it than the earth can possibly feed?"

"Will they eat each other, will infanticide be made compulsory—or, as among the ants, will the great mass of the population be made incapable of reproducing their kind?"

We are reminded of the fact that in congested parts of China thousands live and die in boats on the water, because they have no room on land, and little girls are thrown into the streams and rivers at birth because they are not wanted.

Really intelligent men, believing that figures never lie, are sure that men eventually must keep down the population, as Swift grimly suggested in his satire on Ireland, by eating the surplus children or in some other way.

Nobody ever need lose sleep worrying about the fate of humanity in an overcrowded world.

Things and future dangers are not what they seem. Henry George wisely pointed out the rapid growth of a puppy's tail and drew a moral from the tail.

If the puppy's tail grew throughout the dog's life as fast as it grows in the first few weeks, the old dog would have a tail a hundred feet long. And the distressed, kind-hearted owner would have to cut off his dog's tail once every few weeks.

But the wisdom of nature takes care of that, and the puppy's tail stops growing at just the right moment.

So it is, or will be, with the human race on this planet—like the puppy's tail it will stop growing at the right moment—when it is just the right size.

The best scientific articles and reviews that appear in this country are published now in Hearst's Magazine. That magazine, the October number, contains some interesting facts and figures that shed light on nature's method of managing population.

The elephant is big, heavy and hungry. If he multiplied rapidly enough, he would soon cover the earth and step on everybody. But the elephant is thirty years old before she has her first child. And, unlike the little mouse, she has only one at a time.

On the other hand, some of the elephant's little cousins, microscopic animals, beginning with a single pair, increase to the number of a hundred and seventy thousand millions (170,000,000,000) in four days—which is quite a family.

The cabbage louse multiplies with such frightful speed that if he were not checked by a death rate as great as his fecundity, he would soon present to the eye a mass of cabbage lice bigger than this earth.

When you have a cold in the head, the living germs develop in your nose and throat by the millions, while your friend is telling you "how he cures his colds." You would be shocked if you could realize what a menagerie you carry around.

Nature, wiser than the scientists, has planned this globe for man's farm, home, intellectual gymnasium and starting point to a higher life with absolute certainty and precision.

Little by little all animal life will disappear, from the germ to the giraffe, except man, who alone will represent thought and will power, now shared with his humble brothers in the animal world.

With man, as with other animals, increased development will mean decreased fertility.

Pig weed will cover a thousand acres while the oak tree is growing half a foot above its acorn. But the oak tree will be there in a hundred years and the pig weed vanished.

Man as he becomes more highly developed intellectually will—thousands of centuries from now, populate this earth fully—and then automatically, without infanticide or cannibalism or any other horror, the population of the earth will become automatically balanced.

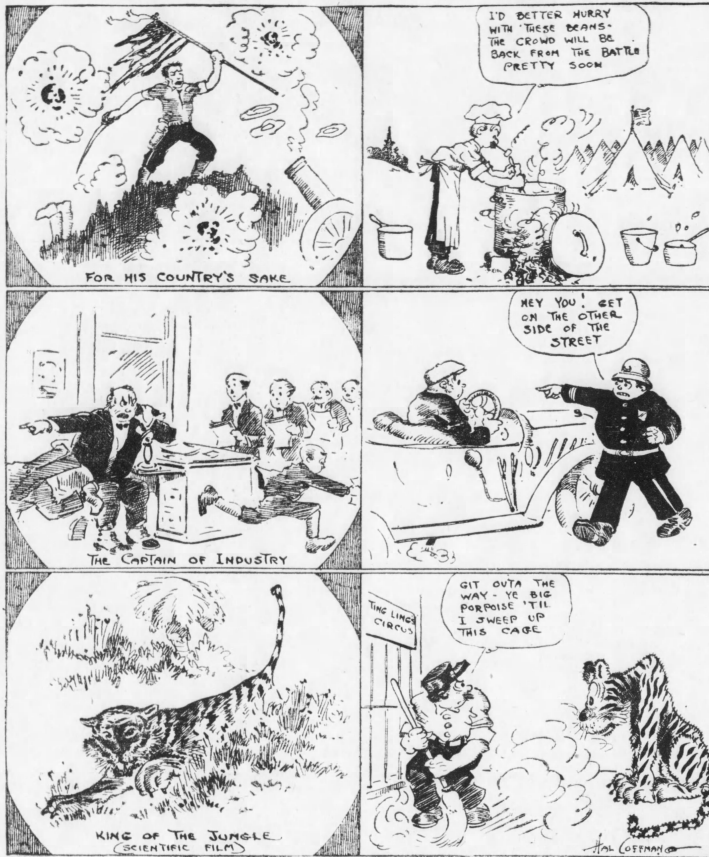

Each man and woman on the average will leave behind them one pair of children.

There will be no death in childhood, and no pain in childbirth—those unnecessary brutalities will be eliminated by science within a few centuries.

Meanwhile, the duty of men and women is to work for the welfare of the children, being more anxious to protect and help those that are here than to increase the number, more eager to give proper care to a few than to brag about many.

P. S.—Not entirely unselfishly, but none the less sincerely, this newspaper advises the thinking men and women among its readers to get regularly Hearst's Magazine, which gives careful attention to important scientific matters, as well as to that which is lighter and more generally interesting. To read it regularly is to have an intelligent presentation of the thought and literature of the world.

polion could not trample them into submission. The disaster that she encountered a few years ago when she braved the power of the United States, has been only redeemed, because it only threw her back upon herself.

But is it true that not only a tolerance, but a passion, for bloodshed is, as Madame Adam seems to think, the surest indication of an unquenchable spirit of a people?

We might find historic grounds for such an opinion. When Rome at the same time ruled and defied the world her people delighted in nothing so much as scenes of bloodshed. Not only bulls and horses, but elephants, lions, tigers, and even armed men, had to surrender their lives by thousands in the arena in order to gratify the thirst of the Roman populace for blood. In Rome, too, and still more decidedly than in Spain, "people were not afraid of blood."

Yet Rome fell when other peoples as fearless of blood as her own began to descend in heresies

upon her. IT WAS THE SPIRIT

OF CHRISTIANITY THAT FINALLY

SAVED ROME AND ETER-

NALIZED HER.

Madame Adam is undoubtedly right in wishing to see Spain placed shoulder to shoulder with

France at this critical moment,

but she might have found a better foundation for her faith in the third's virtue. For the Spanish people than such as can be based upon their alleged indifference to bloodshed.

The Girl Who Ran Away From School

It's the Unkind Things That the "Snippy" Girls Say About Each Other That Causes the Real Heartaches of School Days.

By WINIFRED BLACK.

A LITTLE girl ran away from school the other day and tried to kill herself because the girl who sat in front of her sniffed when the teacher asked what the little girl in the back seat was called.

"I don't know her name," said the little girl in front. "I never met her." And she tossed her silly little addled pate into the air, and looked as scornful as she conveniently could. All the other girls tittered and the boys grinned, and the little girl in the back seat simply couldn't stand it any longer, so she ran away and went and walked into a pond and tried to drown.

When they carried her home her mother found out all about what a bad time she'd been having at school, so she kept her at home a few days and then sent her to another school, where the girls weren't such geese, or at least where they didn't dare to show it if they were.

By this time the girl is probably very happy. Perhaps she is even turning up her small nose herself and saying that she "hates" meet some harmless creatures in braids and short skirts.

What troublous times they are going through, some of these children we know, right now, in the beginning of the new school year.

Do you remember the new school where you would when your dress was long and all the other girls' dresses were short, and you saved your face from being laughed at by some one looking at those skirts and smiling ever so little?

Do you remember the awful boy who raised his hand and wanted to know whose hair was the reddest, yours or the carrot boy's in the last row?

I do—oh, how well I do! I have lived through some moments that were hard, some moments that were difficult, since that awful one, but I have never felt quite so desperate as I did then—and I was only 7 and didn't know how to conceal my feelings.

There was a way, I know, that much vaguely-grown-up did it—let people look straight into their minds—they were a kind of mask or something. I had seen my mother do it when the cook threatened to leave at an inopportune moment. But I didn't know how, and every grinning teacher in that schoolroom saw how I suffered and they giggled at it.

One of the big newspaper men of the country told me once that he couldn't bear the sight of anything red.

"Crimson I can stand," said the big newspaper man, "and cardinal isn't so bad, but this bright red—scarlet, isn't it?—makes me fairly crazy and sick."

Worrying Parents.

"Once my father went traveling, and when he came home he brought my mother and me capes—blue broadcloth and capes—lined with scarlet flannel, and the capes were pinned and so was the flannel. The kids gazed at us, and so we wore those capes decorously out of the house to the next corner, went backward a way, hid them in the woodpile and then

Daughter, poor little daughter—would keep the wind from blowing on her if you could; you wouldn't let her know there was a hard word in the language of you know how to manage it. Poor little tender-hearted daughter, she has her troubles, too—snippy girls in the classroom who call when she comes timidly near, to try to make friends; cruel girls who laugh when she sneezes; a miss-step in jumping rope; giggling girls who nudge each other and look unattractive things at her side passes.

Poor little daughter—don't say anything to her about it. It does not do to make her sorry for herself. Next year she'll be one of the snippy ones, too, perhaps. But we laugh and we sing—"It's the Reckoning Day."

Of course, to give the Devil his due is what we are intending. And it may mean me and it may mean you before the story's ended. But you have to pay on the Reckoning Day, and the debt seems beyond the repaying.

This Young "Old World" Will Never Be Overcrowded

Scientists Need Not Worry About That. A Wisdom Bigger Than Their Attends to Our Problems.
(Copyright, 1912.)

When Columbus landed on American soil the population of this continent was possibly a million—perhaps less.

The squaws had babies nearly every year, but the squaws' husbands killed each other off so fast, and hunger and ignorance killed the squaws' daughters off so fast, that after thousands of years of "multiplying," the whole population of the North American continent was less than the population of Brooklyn, N. Y., to-day.

The wisely foolish view with alarm the fact that we have ninety millions of people on this continent now; that we have five millions cooped up in one big city.

And wisdom asks: "Where is the thing to end? What will happen to this earth when there are more human beings on it than the earth can possibly feed?"

"Will they eat each other, will infanticide be made compulsory—or, as among the ants, will the great mass of the population be made incapable of reproducing their kind?"

We are reminded of the fact that in congested parts of China thousands lie and die in boats on the river, because they have no room on land, and little girls are thrown into the streams and rivers at birth because they are not wanted.

Really intelligent men, believing that figures never lie, are sure that men eventually must keep down the population, as Swift grimly suggested in his satire on Ireland, by eating the surplus children or in some other way.

Nobody ever need lose sleep worrying about the fate of humanity in an overcrowded world.

Things and future dangers are not what they seem.

Henry George wisely pointed out the rapid growth of a puppy's tail and drew a moral from the tail.

If the puppy's tail grew throughout the dog's life as fast as it grows in the first few weeks, the old dog would have a tail a hundred feet long. And the distressed, kind-hearted owner would have to cut off his dog's tail once every few weeks.

But the wisdom of nature takes care of that, and the puppy's tail stops growing at just the right moment.

So it is, or will be, with the human race on this planet—like the puppy's tail it will stop growing at the right moment—when it is just the right size.

The best scientific articles and reviews that appear in this country are published now in Hearst's Magazine. That magazine, the October number, contains some interesting facts and figures that shed light on nature's method of managing population.

The elephant is big, heavy and hungry. If he multiplied rapidly enough, he would soon cover the earth and step on everybody. But the elephant is thirty years old before she has her first child. And, unlike the little mouse, she has only one at a time.

On the other hand, some of the elephant's little cousins, microscopic animals, beginning with a single pair, increase to the number of a hundred and seventy thousand millions (170,000,000,000) in four days—which is quite a family.

The cabbage louse multiplies with such frightful speed that if he were not checked by a death rate as great as his fecundity, he would soon present the eye a mass of cabbage lice bigger than this earth.

When you have a cold in the head, the living germs develop in your nose and throat by the millions, while your friend is telling you "how he cures his colds." You would be shocked if you could realize what a menagerie you carry around.

Nature, wiser than the scientists, has planned this globe for man's farm, home, intellectual gymnasium and starting point to a higher life with absolute certainty and precision.

Little by little all animal life will disappear, from the germ to the giraffe, except man, who alone will represent thought and will power, now shared with his humble brothers in the animal world.

With man, as with other animals, increased development will mean decreased fertility.

Pig weed will cover a thousand acres while the oak tree is growing half a foot above its acorn. But the oak tree will be there in a hundred years and the pig weed vanished.

Man as he becomes more highly developed intellectually will—thousands of centuries from now, populate this earth fully—and then automatically, without infanticide or cannibalism or any other horror, the population of the earth will become automatically balanced.

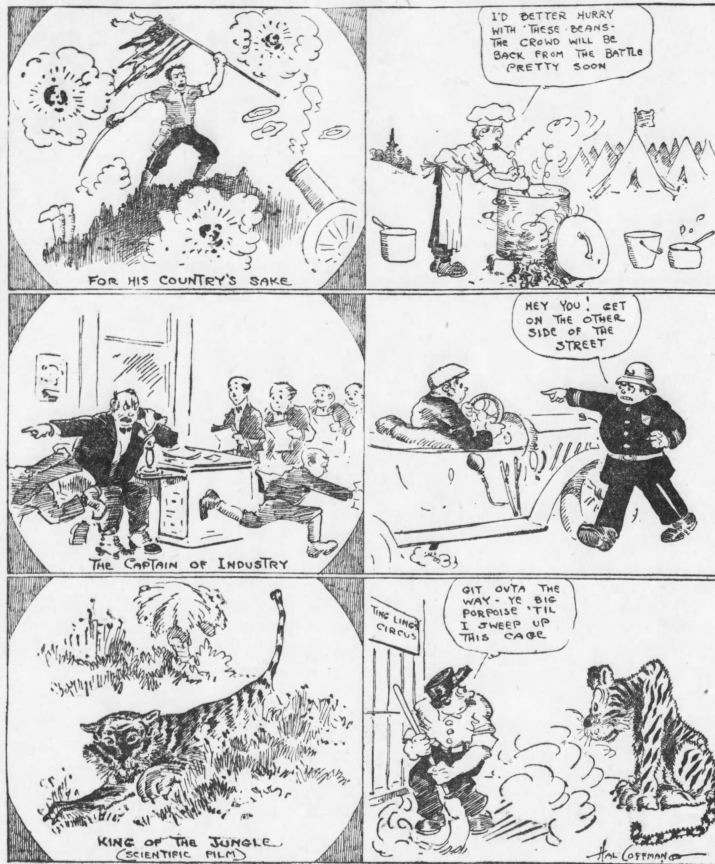

Each man and woman on the average will leave behind them one pair of children.

There will be no death in childhood, and no pain in childbirth—those unnecessary brutalities will be eliminated by science within a few centuries.

Meanwhile, the duty of men and women is to work for the welfare of the children, being more anxious to protect and help those that are here than to increase the number, more eager to give proper care to a few than to brag about many.

P. S.—Not entirely unselfish, but none the less sincerely, this newspaper advises the thinking men and women among its readers to get regularly Hearst's Magazine, which gives careful attention to important scientific matters, as well as to that which is lighter and more generally interesting. To read it regularly is to have an intelligent presentation of the thought and literature of the world.

Queer Opinion of Spanish People

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

ONE of the questions which most profoundly interest all thoughtful Frenchmen at the present moment is that of an alliance between their country and Spain.

The fear of Germany hangs over the French republic as the Gaius, hovering in dark clouds behind the Alps, hung over ancient Rome.

Amid all the talk of peace, which is everywhere so popular to-day, there is no mistaking the fact that in France every heart is heavy with thoughts of war. If it were a war of aggression and conquest that hovered in the near future, the hearts of the French people would be not heavy, but jubilant.

But the approach of a defensive war invariably saddens the spirits of those who expect to be its victims.

The simple fact, which one sees repeated again and again in the French newspapers, that the population of Germany is increasing at the rate of a million a year, while that of France is stationary, is not declining, is sufficient to awaken the gloomiest forebodings.

It is a spectacle that moves the sympathy of a foreign visitor to see this great people, with their glorious past irradiating them like the splendor of a sunset, compelled to meet the menace of their mighty foe, with his constantly swelling armies, by the almost pitiful device of forcing their sons to spend an additional year of their youth in camps, because there are no crowds of successors coming up from the cradle to take their places.

It is a spectacle that moves the sympathy of a foreign visitor to see this great people, with their glorious past irradiating them like the splendor of a sunset, compelled to meet the menace of their mighty foe, with his constantly swelling armies, by the almost pitiful device of forcing their sons to spend an additional year of their youth in camps, because there are no crowds of successors coming up from the cradle to take their places.

But there is a broader aspect to this subject, which is revealed in a remark of the famous French authoress, Madame Adam. When asked recently her opinion about the proposed Spanish alliance, she replied that such an understanding appeared to her desirable in every sense of the word. And then she added some remarkable sentences:

"Here is Spain throughout her whole history," said Madame Adam. "Her women personify her heroism, not only in their defense of Saragossa, but in their passion, often founded on courage, for bullfights. In Spain people are not afraid of blood, and that it is which makes the nation indomitable!"

Everybody knows that Madame Adam tells only the plain truth about the indomitable character of the people of Spain. Rome never mastered them as she mastered other races. The rush of the Moors upon them was merely an overwhelming wave which eventually was hurled back again.

Napoleon could not trample them into submission. The disaster that he encountered a few years ago, when he braved the power of the United States, has been nobly redeemed, because it only threw her back upon herself.

But is it true that not only a tolerance, but a passion, for bloodshed is, as Madame Adam seems to think, the surest indication of an unconquerable spirit of a people?

We might find historic grounds for such an opinion. When Rome at the same time ruled and defied the world her people delighted in nothing so much as scenes of bloodshed. Not only bulls and horses, but elephants, lions, tigers, and even armed men, had to surrender their lives by thousands in the arenas in order to satisfy the thirst of the Roman populace for blood. In Rome, too, and still more decidedly than in Spain, "people were not afraid of blood."

Yet Rome fell under other peoples as fearless of blood as her own began to descend in herds upon her. IT WAS THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTIANITY THAT FINALLY SAVED ROME AND ETERNALIZED HER.

Madame Adam is undoubtedly right in wishing to see Spain placed shoulder to shoulder with France at this critical moment, but she might have found a better foundation for her faith in the sturdy virtue of the Spanish people than such as can be based upon their alleged indifference to bloodshed!

The world is doomed to see much fighting yet. Armies are not going to be abolished to-morrow or the next day. Every new invention is instantly seized upon to add to the military power of the nations.

The reign of the lawyers is not going immediately to succeed that of the warriors. The judges, with their long robes, their powdered wigs and their heads filled with precedents and legal technicalities, are not on the point of crowding out the generals with their swords, their gold-laced coats and their strings of glittering medals.

War slowly but surely losing its former ferocity.

But war, while seeming to render itself more terrible by the aid of science, is slowly losing its teeth and beginning to tremble in every limb, like those supernatural giants that Bunyan saw in his vision inhabiting the cave at the termination of the Valley of the Shadow of Death.

It is stumbling under the weight it carries. By and by it will pass away, and then, since human nature can not change at the bottom as rapidly as it changes on the surface, it will behoove the world to see that it does not take upon its shoulders, in the form of a "Mr. Legality," a more insufferable burden than it bore in the person of the "Apollon" of war.

Worrying Parents.

"Once my father went traveling, and when he came home he brought my brother and me capes—blue broadcloth capes—lined with scarlet fannel, and the capes were pinked and so was the fannel. The kids craved us, and so we wore those capes decrepantly out of the house to the next corner, went backward a way, hid them in the woodpile and then

THE RECKONING DAY

By LILIAN LAUFERTY.

WE are going the way of death—'tis a joyful way. Come and join us, sons of earth, on the primeval way. Come and join us—hand in hand we will go our way. Till we meet in No Man's Land on the Reckoning Day. But the time to pay is so far away.

So we laugh and we sing—"O! the Reckoning Day. Of course, to give the Devil his due is what we are intending. And it may mean we die as they mean we before the story's ending. But you have to pay on the Reckoning Day, and the debt seems beyond the spending.

We are going the way of joy—"tis a merry way. Come good comrades, man and boy, on the primeval way. Come and join us—hand in hand we will go our way. Comrades, come—we'll never part 'till the Reckoning Day. Sure the time to pay will be due some day. But we carol and shout 'till the Reckoning Day.

Of course, to pay our debt to life will mean our undoing—And there may be tears and tears and strife and bitter pain and raving.

But that is the very chance you take when Dame Pleasure you go a-courting.
